

We want you to know that there are people who care about you!

You are invited to meet some really great people through the One Heart Notes program. Let your case worker know that you want to connect with a Fan so they can become your pen pal.

Our mission is to provide at-risk and incarcerated youth a second chance.

“I met my One Heart mentor a few months before I was released. They visited me every week, so many times that I can't count. I met with them and learned about them and their kids. We talked about things that I couldn't talk about with my family. Now that I'm out, I call them and they call me and we talk about life and choices. They are a big help to me to keep the promises that I made when I was at Gainesville.”

Gainesville 2011

“I encourage everyone to take advantage of every positive opportunity that is offered by One Heart. It is worth it, so ask your caseworker what you need to do. Meeting the people from One Heart will help you make the right choices. If I would not have been willing to take the chance on One Heart, I'd probably be back in jail or dead. Instead, I'm following my dreams.”

- Mack White, released from
